

4. Film sensor

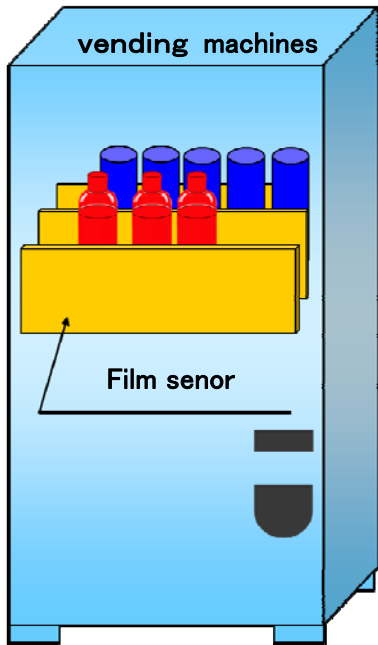

I wish I could control the inventory of vending machines from my office...

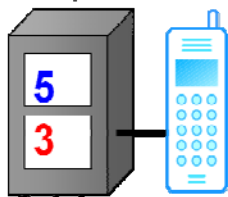

We can manage it!

Using a film sensor, you can easily control the inventory anywhere, anytime

Quantity indicator

From office

Also from outside

- ① When a film sensor is put between drinks, it measures the remaining of liquids and calculate the quantity of inventory.
- ② The measured data is transferred to the indicator, which sends the data to you by signals.